Stages Two to Five

Draft_one (half day to two days work)

At this stage Antony of A Perkin Web Design will register your domain if available, commission any flash design(s) if required and design your web site from your information. Pages in JPG format will be emailed to you for your alterations and approval.

Draft_two (up to half days work)

Changes will be made to your draft_one. Navigation bars, links, emails, hot spots etc. will be added to your web site. This will be uploaded to your web server and you should be able to view your web site for the first time. There will be a temporary project page at the front of your web site so you can see the progress. You will be emailed and phoned to say your web site is available to view for the first time for your changes and approval.

Draft_three (up to half days work)

Changes will be made to your draft_two. Any flash item(s) will be added at this stage. Your website will be tested in four browsers and two screen sizes any layout changes will be made. This will be uploaded to your web server and you should be able to view your web site for the second time. You will be emailed and phoned to say your web site is available for minor changes and approval.

Draft_four (up to half days work)

Minor changes to draft_three. Your web site will have the meta tags (for search engines) researched and added. This will be uploaded to your web server and you should be able to view your web site for a third time. You will be emailed and phoned to say your web site is available for minor changes and approval.

Stages Six and Seven

Live_one (up to half days work)

The temporary project page will be removed. All drafts will be removed from the server, all pictures, graphics, etc. will be freshly installed on the server. A copy of your web site will be burnt to CD-RW. Your web site will be submitted to search engines, indexes and directories. You will be emailed and phoned to say your web site is available for minor changes and testing by Tom Green.

Live_two (up to one hours work)

Minor changes to live_one. A copy of your web site will be burnt to CD-RW and handed to you for safe keeping. You will be invoiced for total amount and the balance will be due for payment.

That's it

After sales service (Yes you get that too)

You can make minor changes to your web site for one year, any major page over haul or additional pages will be charged at £40 per main page and £10 per (subling) child page.
